A Difference in Working Hours
A man's working day is 8 hours.
His bod yorgans must work perfectly 24 hours to keep him fit for 8 hours work. Weak, sore, inactive kidneys can not do it. They must be sound and healthy active all the time.
Foley Kidney Pills will make them them into your system without good results following their use. They

SNOWSHOES ON LONG TRAIL

Three Boston Men Taking 50-Mile Trip

Rutland, Jan. 22.—William Kimberly, Frank E. Wright and Bernard M.
Maxham, of Boston, members of the Appalachian club, were in this city today, equipped with snowshoes, sleeping bags and ruck sacks, enroute to Brandon, preparatory to taking a 50-mile trip over the Green Mountain club trail to Mount Mansfield. They will return home via Burlington, tramping to Underhill.

These men have been over a part of the trail before and are familiar with the general trend of the country. They are probably the first enthusiasts to attempt the trip on snow.

Although they will make use of such shelters as they find, the trio have sleeping bags of the heaviest types, such as are used in Alaska, and they expect to spend some nights in the open woods with nothing to temper the cold except a campfire.
They will go by sleigh from Brandon to Mount Horrid on the Rochester road, where they will strike the trail.

Each man will carry provisions for a week, the total weight of every tramp's pack being about 30 pounds. Dried food is to be used as much as possible to minimize weight.
The men wear Indian moccasins, suits of pontiac cloth and toques.
They use "Bear Paw" snowshoes, through the Maine wilderness they found the rigging most satisfactory.
There is one light axe in the party.
Each man has a searchlight.

THE STORY OF A VANISHED PREJUDICE

In the February Woman's Home Companion, Christine Terchauer Herrick writes an article entitled "What I Have Learned About Canned Foods." She says that some years ago she had a real prejudice against canned foods, and she calls her article "the story of a vanished prejudice." Commenting on the improvements in canned foods, she says in part:

"After all the agitation for pure food, after Doctor Wiley's utterances on the subject and the attention which has been called to the use and abuse of preservatives, is it necessary to say that the vegetables and fruits now put on the market are free from chemicals? Even if we were not willing to accord the cancer consciousness scruples which would withhold him from the use of dangerous ingredients in his products, the law stands ready to protect the consumer by demanding that if the can of food contains anything in the line of preservatives, this must be printed on the label. You are safe in believing that the only means used in preparing the food so that it will keep has been the heat to which it was subjected after it went into the can. The elimination of chemicals of all sorts has had the commendable effect of obliging manufacturers to use only first-rate materials in canning. The day has gone by when an unscrupulous man could put up rotten vegetables or fruits and cover the flavor by the addition of a chemical.

"The workings of the Pure Food Law are among the many things done nowadays to smooth the way of the housekeeper. We all make our lament, and with reason, over the high price of living. Isn't it worth while, now and then, to cultivate cheerfulness by thinking of the advantages coming our way in housekeeping? There are still unwholesome foods on the market, unsanitary methods prevail on our bakeries as well as our laundries. But conditions have been improved to an extent we do not always appreciate. Think of a few of them!

"When we consider the banishment from canned foods of unacknowledged chemicals, the care taken to use fresh and good materials in canning, the cleanliness enforced in the canneries and among those who work there, the mark set by the canners' associations for a high standard of integrity in manufacturing throughout the country, I think we housekeepers might feel that our case is not entirely discouraging." the treatment of eczema and all skin diseases. It contains no harmful drug yet is a powerful germicide and Much study and many experiments dy can compare with Unguentol for the quick relief and positive cure of eczema and skin troubles. Harold
